

DRAMATIC METHOD IN EVERYDAY COMMUNICATION

People on the movement from India participated at the workshop Dramatic Method in Everyday Communication, which was held on May 27, 2022 at the Reception Center “Borići”. Apart from them, the workshop was attended by students of the Pedagogical Faculty, Department of Preschool Education and the Department of English Language and Literature. The aim of the workshop was to determine the feelings that the participants have in everyday situations through role-playing. The workshop consisted of five activities. After each of these, a conversation was held about the feelings that arise and for what reason. The last activity was related to a common mural of abstract art turned into graffiti, with which the thoughts of these young people who want a better future and a life worthy of man are expressed.

The workshop is a part of the project “Enhancing Social Cohesion in Host Communities of People on the Move“, financed by the European Union’s Foreign Policy Instruments Service (FPI) under the Instrument Contributing to Stability and Peace (IcSP), and implemented by the International Organization for Migrations (IOM) in Bosnia and Herzegovina.
